

Host Family Program

Host Unique Opportunity to Participate With the Tucson Nationals

Do you have room in your house for a college baseball player that is coming to Tucson for the summer? If so, the Tucson Nationals needs your assistance. We are actively trying to place our players in homes that will help us develop these athletes not only into top baseball players but quality people.

For our part the Tucson Nationals recruit athletes that have shown maturity on the field and in the classroom at their respective colleges and universities. We schedule their days/nights during the summer so that they are either practicing or playing games. When hosting a player he welcomes the opportunity to aid his hosting family with errands or any other assistance that the family might need while he is there. If you have a young ball player in the household the host player becomes a personal instructor for baseball and a tutor in academics. Naturally all family members obtain free passes to all Nationals ball games and events.

Those interested in becoming a host family should expect to provide a comfortable place to store the player's belongings and a comfortable place for them to sleep. The players are required to live under your rules and to be a responsible member of the household. The host family schedule will be from May 25 to August 13. For many of the days within that period the players will be on the road playing games, sometimes for days at a time. Still, it is very comforting to the players knowing they have a nice place to come home to.

If being a host family is something that interests you and your family the Tucson Nationals would love to hear from you. Please contact us to discuss arrangements and to choose your Tucson Nationals Player. We look forward to hearing from you.

Who knows? You might host a future Major League Baseball player.
